

B BRITISH ONLINE
ARCHIVES

+44 (0)1924 825700

info@britishonlinearchives.digital

www.britishonlinearchives.digital

ESTABLISHING THE POST-WAR INTERNATIONAL ORDER, 1944-1961

B BRITISH ONLINE
ARCHIVES

Global governance and geopolitics...

In the aftermath of the Second World War, the triumphant Allied powers agreed to create a series of multilateral institutions and regimes to govern the emerging international system.

While some found support on either side of the so-called Iron Curtain, others were very much the product of the West and its particular interests.

British Online Archives' latest collection, Establishing the Post-War International Order, 1944-1961, provides an unparalleled insight into the political, economic, and military foundations of the post-war international order.

The materials, which are diverse in nature, cover a wide range of subject matter, shedding light on the perspectives of various state and non-state actors during periods of both cooperation and conflict.

It contains more than 250,000 unique images.

the humanities and social sciences, from History and International Relations to Economics and International Law.

Sources include: The National Archives (UK)

This collection was scanned from paper at The National Archives (UK).

The United Nations (UN), Marshall Plan, World Bank, International Monetary Fund (IMF), General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO), and European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC), to name but a few examples, are all accounted for.

Brought together here for the first time, these files are intended for use by academics working across

...from Bretton Woods to the Berlin Wall

Most of the documents are derived from the annals of the British Foreign Office (i.e. FO 371), Cabinet Office (i.e. CAB 128), Treasury (i.e. T 274), and Board of Trade (i.e. BT 64).

Records of global commodity prices also feature heavily, including gold, oil, and food.

Study the institutions, treaties, and events that shaped the post-war world.

Over 4 million records covering 1000 years of world history: from politics & warfare, to slavery & revolution.

www.britishonlinearchives.digital